Taking a chance, community founders put down roots,

In the span of history, a century is but an instant! Indiana became a state in 1816; just 16 years later in 1832 Roseville had its beginnings; then just 36 years later, in 1870, Roseville became an incorporated town. Both Ross Township and Roseville were named for John Ross, who was one of the first associate judges in Clinton County.

ROSSVILLE The white man destined to lead the march of civilization to what is now Ross Township was Solomon Miller, who came in March 1828. He was soon followed by Daniel Underwood, who built the first mill in the township, and Matthias Wicher, who followed farming and blacksmithing.

In 1829 inhabitants increased rapidly, and among them was Samuel Seawright, who settled just off where Roseville is now located. It was on his farm that the first school house was built in 1831, and he also owned the first store.

SEDALIA Located in Owen Township, this town was platted in 1873 by James Campbell and Jackson McCune. Its name was suggested by a railroad construction official from Sedalia, Illinois. Mr. McCune built the first house here and was the first postmaster. A high school was organized here by William Robison in 1898.

EDNA MILLS The name of this town is somewhat a mystery but seems to have originated from the fact that when a post office was established there, a Mr. Kallenberger, who owned the mill there, named the town in honor of his wife, Edna.

PYRMONT In 1812 John Wagoner arrived in the area on horseback looking for a place to settle his family. About 1826, he was followed by several other Ohio families, among who were Utseys, Shivelys, Metzgers, Replagies, and Studebakers. These families formed a little settlement known as "Wild Cat Corners", later renamed Pyrmont.

OWASCO The Monon Railroad seems to have been the incentive for the town. Owasco was begun when Catherine M. Roth purchased Lots 4 and 5 for $120. Owasco's first school was built in 1834 and was called Bulla School. A frame building was built in 1857 and called Moore School. In 1879 it was replaced by a brick building, the first to be called Owasco School.

So go the lines of the "soulful" rendition sung to Mary Lou at her retirement party. Having served the corporation as secretary, counselor, mother, nurse, confidante and friend for a long 23 years, Mary Lou finally decided to retire. Her smiling face will be greatly missed.

DEPARTMENT FOCUS ON LIFE SKILLS

tudents often complain that their classes are boring and do not give them what they need in life. This, however, is not the case in our vocational courses. Here students "master" the skills necessary for life. No more is home economics just a lot of girls sewing on dish towels or baking cookies. Non discriminatory, these courses have boys as master chefs and girls grabbing up power saws, paint brushes, and drafting tools.

As the students mature, so do the courses. Seniors can encounter mock marriages and face typical problems of married life, or they might choose to build cedar chests or make a mirror for their dream home. They could also learn how to build that dreamhome in Ag. Construction. Others involve themselves in marketing and manufacturing a product. Life skills thus provide the foundation for a better tomorrow.

FORMULA FOR SUCCESS

oofy gear, weird formulas, and dangerous concoctions are the make-up of the Science and Math department. "Weird Science" has given the students a chance to explore areas that would normally be too dangerous, but with the proper instructions they don their plastic aprons and goggles and step into the world of science. Through their experiments they learn the fun and dangers of the mixtures they make.

The long and often confusing formulas learned in Algebra and Geometry are found to be answers to some of "life's little mysteries." A brief insight into the world of computers is also gained, as they try their hand at making a twenty line program, printing a table, and getting the computer to do things they never imagined possible.

FOREIGN LANGUAGES SPOKEN

Who said an English class had to be dull and dreary. It is often pictured as a torturous place full of term paper terrors, book report demons, and dastardly diagrams. Nothing fun ever happened there. If this is your picture, then wake up. You obviously are missing a great deal that is occurring in your class.

Just last semester a trial took place in Mr. Wilson's class, and the accused was found guilty and sentenced to die. Commercials and debates were the rage in Mr. Knapp's class. Mrs. Oliver's students became characters of the novels they read, and Mr. Eiler's students involved themselves in grammar workshop.

Allowing the students to read it, breathe it, see it, hear it, taste it, and speak it are the many ways in which Spanish is taught. The language from south of the border adds a festive outlook to the student's day as he enters this brightly colored world of strange words and informative films. Students consume the cuisine of this foreign country while they gain a broader understanding of its rich cultural and historic relationship with our own country.

To give a fair chance to potential creativity is a matter of life and death for any society.

Arnold Toynbee

Opportunities to develop to their greatest artistic potential are offered to all RHS students. Rossville has supplied its students with their "fair chance" in all aspects of its choral, band, and art curriculum. Though sketches, drums, and sopranos are all a different aspect of the artist's world, course offerings in these areas give the students the opportunity to obtain a variety of backgrounds. This wide exposure and an excellent staff assures them that they will receive the help and backing that they need to reach the top of their potential - CREATIVITY.

HISTORY DEPARTMENT MAKES HISTORY REAL

Bringing the past to life, understanding the happenings of the present, and looking into the future are what Rossville's History Department is all about. The 1986-87 school year made its mark in history with an absence of space shuttle flights, a developing white house CONTRA scandal, the spreading fear of A.I.D.S., and the arrival of the President of the United States on the Purdue Campus. The year brought us many different projects, including the portrayal of figures from history.

One local character, Speck Timmons, gave the history classes an in-depth personal view of what worlfe was like for him. He answered their questions on what is just textbook history for the students but a time of real pain and fear for him. His presentation made history come alive for them.

REAGAN VISITS AREA

Residents of Lafayette and the surrounding areas enjoyed the opportunity of a lifetime to see their leader in person. Reagan's visit cost Purdue $40,800, but publicity generated by his two and one-half hour visit, his tour of the Purdue laboratories, and his speech at Mackey Arena (where he addressed some important world issues), will more than offset the cost.

The arrival of President Reagan sparked an interest in the students here at RHS, and several took a day out of school and were on hand to greet him when he arrived.

PARTICIPANTS STRAIN AND GAIN

Leading the pack on the home stretch is Brad Mohler

Few Physical Education instructors, Mr. Mosson and Miss Ervin, created a fresh atmosphere in which the students in grades 7-9 could actively participate in the designated activities. The students received a wide variety of experiences in the "field" of sports. Volleyball, football, soccer, softball, gymnastics, basketball, hockey and track are just a few of the areas covered.

Although each Phys. Ed class was only 50 minutes in length, each student would probably agree that PE was a Painful Experience but a lot of fun.

BONFIRE SPARKS NHS

Enthusiasm and Involvement were the key words of National Honor Society this year. Under the new sponsorship of Mrs. Glover, NHS sponsored the first Bon-Fire at Rossville in order to spark a fire in the crowd for the boys' sectional. A benefit Christian Rock dance was another of their activities.

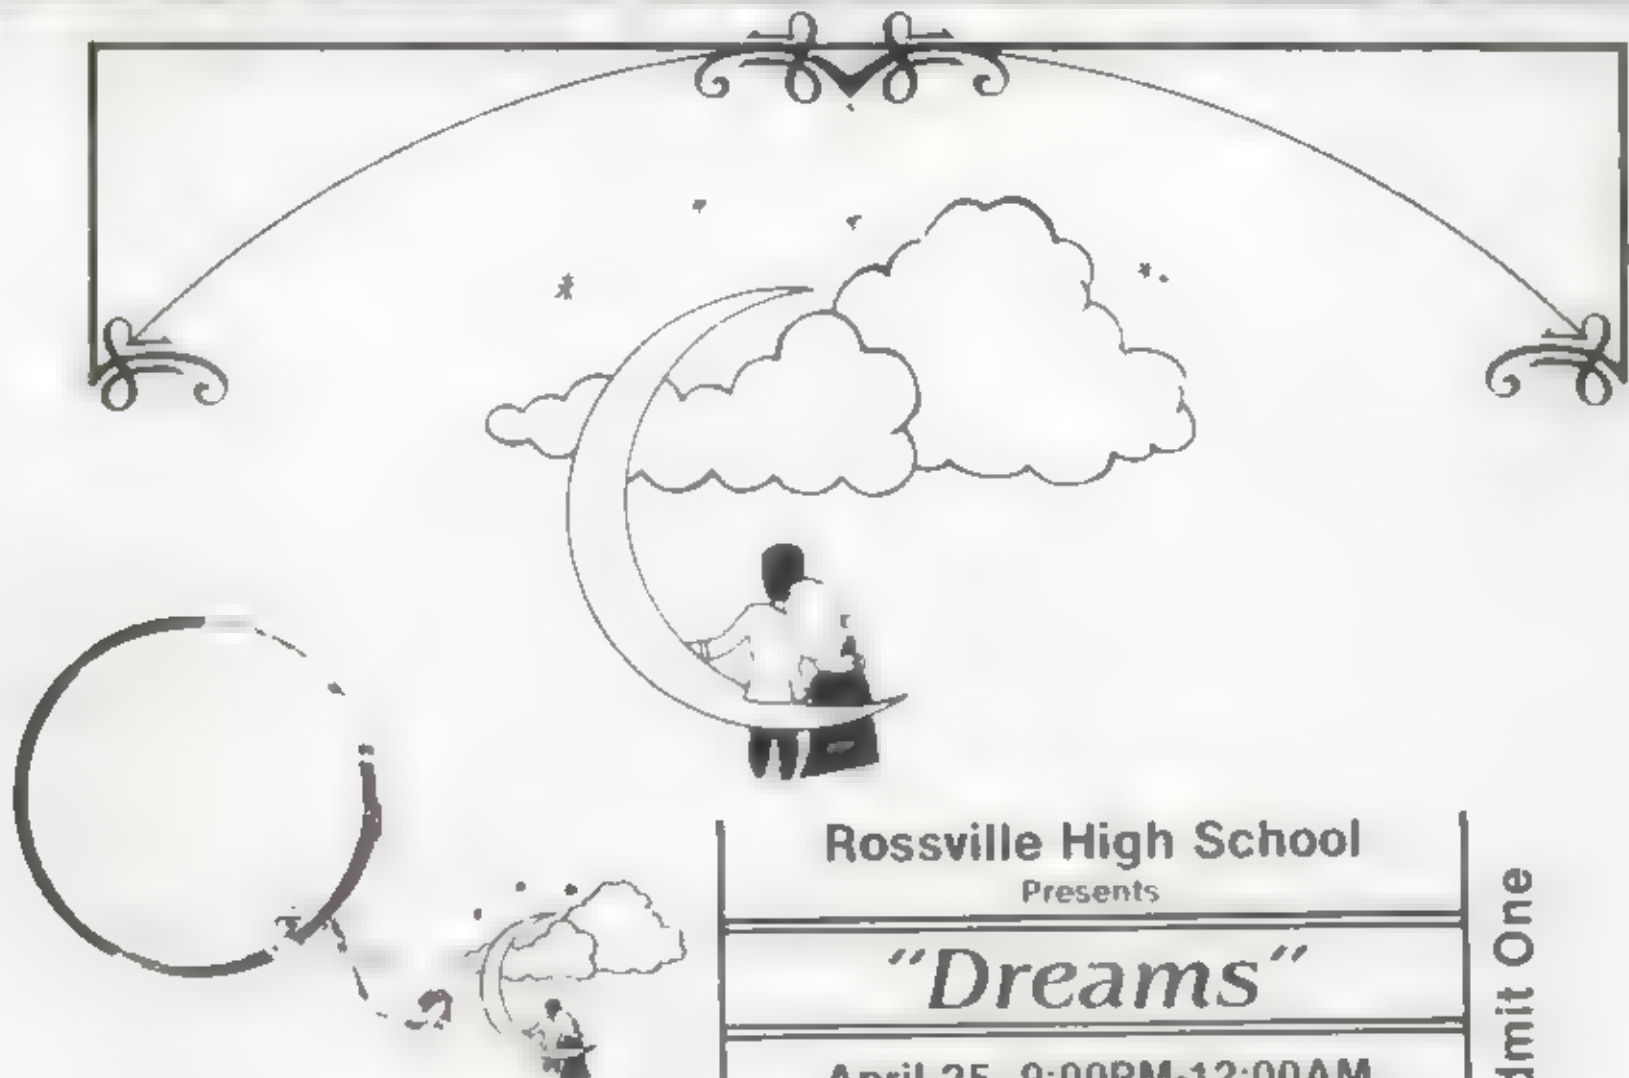

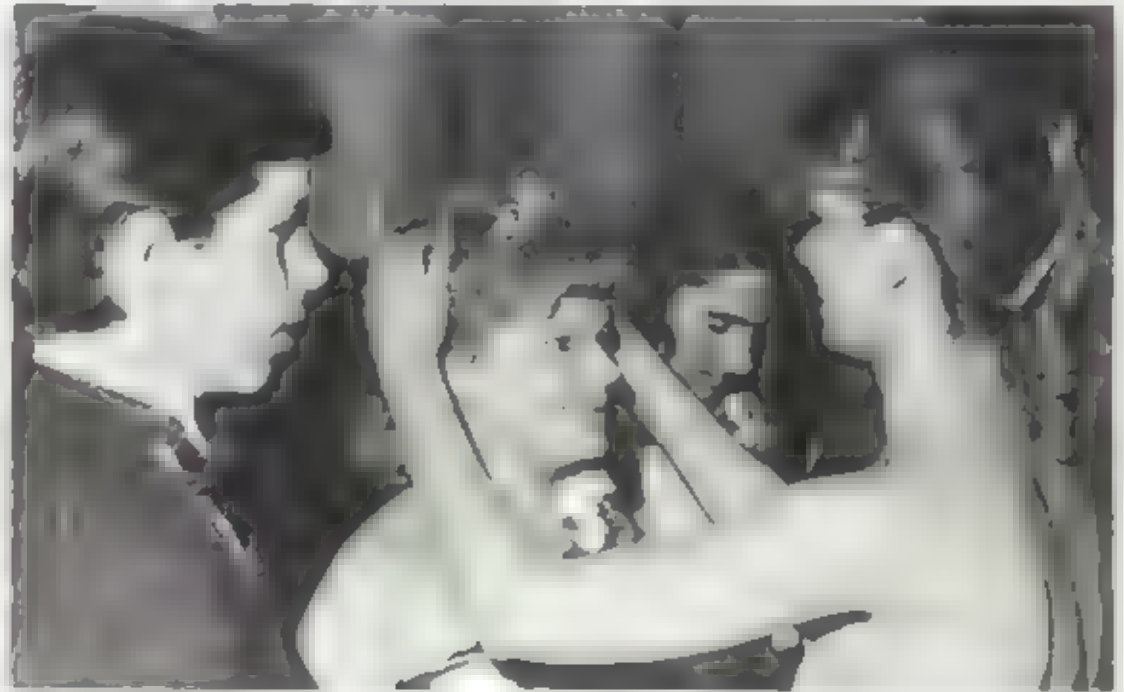

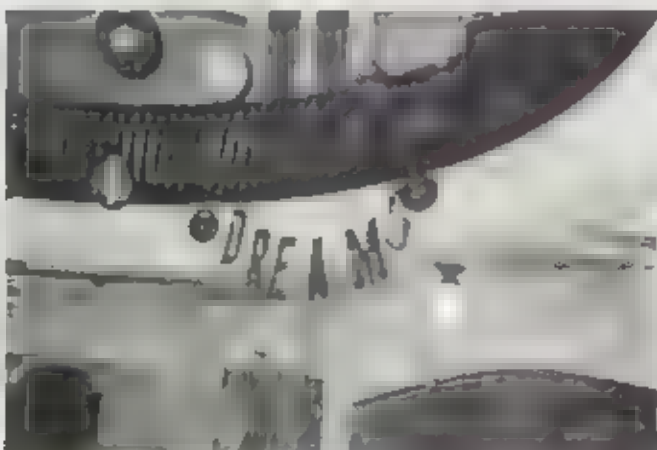

The induction of 15 new members on March 17th was the highlight of the year, and the new members were immediately put to work preparing for Honor's Day ceremonies. Great things are expected of these new members.

Mr. Knapp expresses his appreciation for the great turnout.

Myron Hufford is recognized for his help.

LEADERS ADDRESS CLASSMATES

Melissa Hodgen - Valedictorian

Today forty-three young people are graduating and stepping into a new world. Over the years the meaning of graduation day has varied as much as those who have defined it. As for myself, I look at it this way. Our lives are like those of butterflies. Yesterdays are represented by the caterpillar, today by the breaking of our cocoons, and all of our tomorrows by the flights that lie ahead of us.

Like caterpillars, my classmates and I have spent the past twelve years developing into the talented young adults which are seated before you. But that development did not necessarily come easily. It was a process that had to be taken step by step with one day's lesson building on the next. Take for instance our English class. Before writing a six hundred word composition, we learned to write a one hundred word paragraph, and before writing the paragraph, we studied proper sentence structure. This example is just one of many, and now that we have worked hard at developing our wings we are ready to break free from the familiar cocoon of high school life into the winds of society. Within this society each of us possesses the potential to soar to success, and like the beauty of the butterfly which brings joy to people's lives, we too should strive for success in such a way that we add happiness to the lives of others. Only this type of success brings the rewards that are far greater than seven digit savings accounts. As someone once said, money can buy a bed but not sleep, medicine but not health, and amusement but not happiness. Reach for that which can not be bought, and in this reaching I encourage you who are still students to do your best so that when this is your graduation day, you will feel that your wings are strong enough to face what lies ahead. To my classmates and the rest of my audience I challenge you to continue working and learning, for even the strongest wings become weak without proper use, and if someday the winds seem too strong I hope that you will remember these words from a poem by Helen Steiner Rice entitled "On the Wings of Prayer."

Just close your eyes,
and open your heart,
And feel your worries
and joys support
Just yield yourself
to the Father above
And let Him hold you secure in His love —
For life on earth
grows more involved
with endless problems that can't be solved —
But God only asks us
to do our best,
Then He will take over
and finish the rest.

Sandra Hufford - Salutatorian

Seventy-five years ago a young grocery clerk had $372 and an idea. The man was Bernard H. Kroger. Fifty-six years ago with a horse, a paddy wagon, and $65 capital, a young grocery clerk started selling cheese from store to store. Today we know him as J. L. Kraft.

No doubt many people thought these two young men were crazy when they learned of their bizarre ideas, but today we marvel at their success. How did they do it? Simple. They were willing to gamble all they had on a dream they truly believed in. They believed in themselves, and they never gave up. In doing so they gained world-wide fame and fortune.

Nothing ventured, nothing gained. These four words will impact greatly on our lives as they did for both Kroger and Kraft. In setting out to conquer our goals we are putting our lives on the line and that, for most people, is enough of a motivation. When we realize we are putting thirteen years of education, training, and experience behind us, we realize that there is no turning back, and if we want happiness and fulfillment we will have to work for it.

Just like Kroger and Kraft had a dream, many of us have one too. Whether it's a dream to be a nurse, secretary, accountant, or the President, we will only attain it in one way — by believing in ourselves and our dreams and by putting our trust in God. Success won't come served on a silver platter. It won't be in our graduation gifts, and we can't take an elevator ride to reach it. In order to get it we must be willing to give a little of ourselves. For thirteen years we have had our parents and friends to turn to when we needed help. Though they will still be backing us all the way, it is time for us to give up their constant assistance and rely on ourselves, and with the help of God, learn through our own experiences.

A little boy was once asked how he learned to skate. He replied, "Oh, by getting up every time I fell down." If the words of that little boy could be adopted as a creed by everyone of us, attaining our goals would be made much simpler.

I remember a conversation I had with my mom less than two weeks ago — it was during the time in which everything needed to be done at once and the "end of the year" pressure seemed unbearable. I told her that, even though we had less than two weeks to go, it would be nice to just forget it all, to just give up. As I recall her answer it made me stop and think. She asked me, "Are you going to run away every time things seem impossible?" What do we gain by giving up? Simple — nothing. But what do we have to lose? Everything — our friends, pride in ourselves, and thirteen years of hard work and experience. To give up now or ever would be throwing away all that we have worked for.

In closing I would like to dedicate this poem to the Class of 1987.

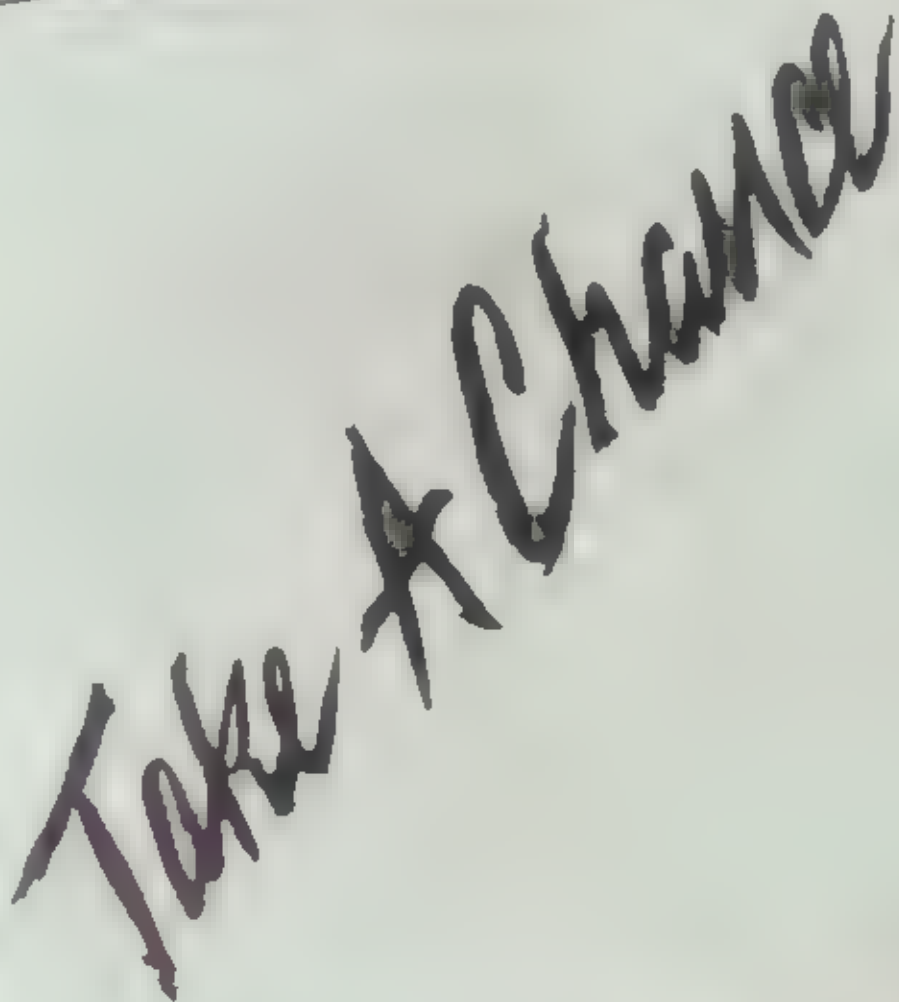

When things go wrong, as they sometimes will,
When the road you're treading seems all uphill,
When the funds are low, and the debts are high,
When you want to smile, but you have to sigh,
When care is pressing you down a bit,
Rest if you must, but don't you quit.
Success is failure turned inside out,
The silver tint of the clouds of doubt,
And you never can tell how close you are,
It may be near when it seems afar,
So stick to the fight when you're hardest hit,
It's when things go wrong that you mustn't quit.

Perhaps 75 years from now someone will look back at our class and find that one of us became a Bernard Kroger or J. L. Kraft. It could be any one of us, but only if we don't quit on ourselves or our dreams.

THE ONE MAN FINNISH INVASION

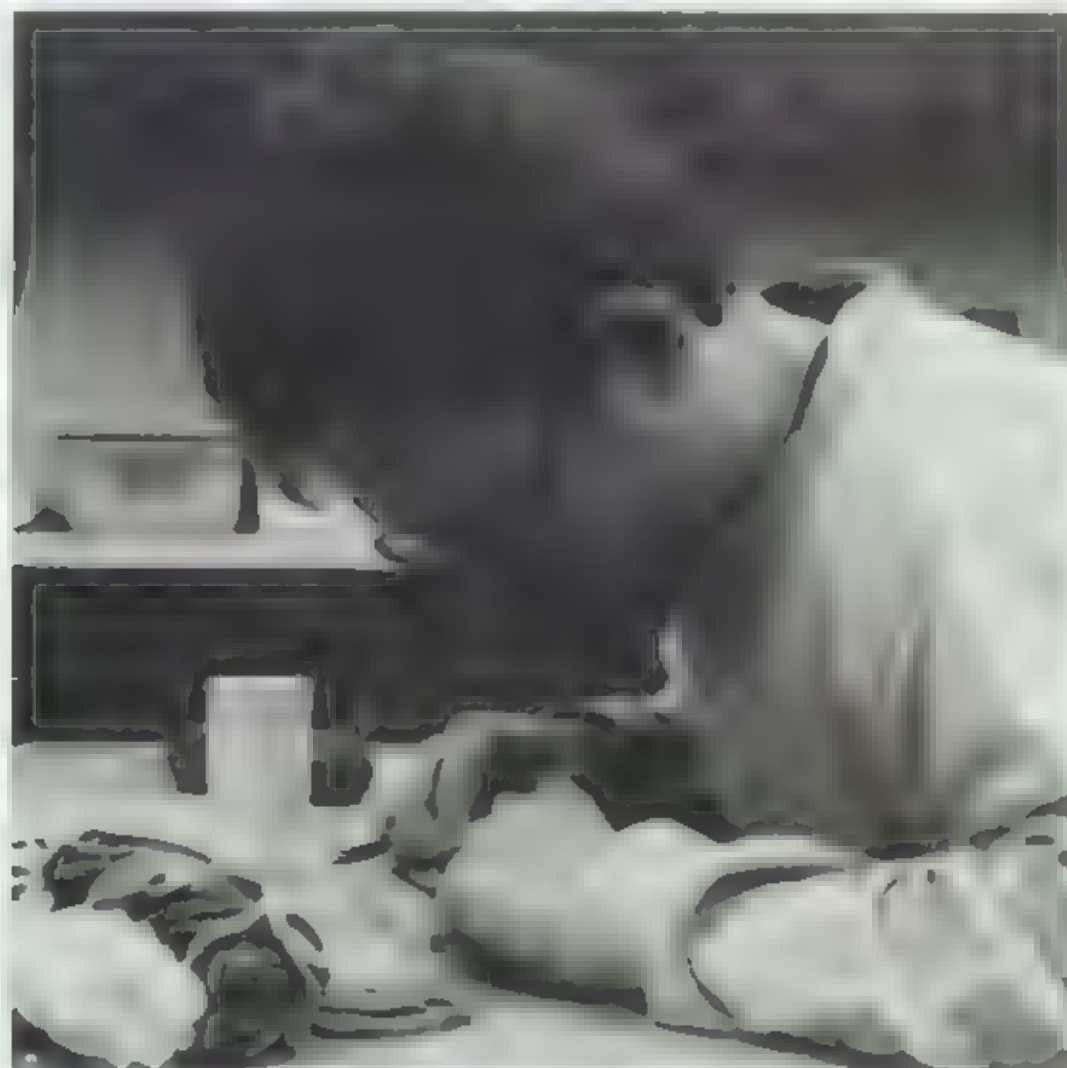

Ever feel like taking a year off from school and exploring a different culture? Petter Kainu, of Novsiamen, Finland, did exactly that. Although he still had a year of high school to go, Petter chose to be a foreign exchange student and came to America to find out what it and we were really like. What did he discover?

Schools in the U.S. offer students a wider choice in classes and more routine to their schedules. In Finland there are no choices, and schedules change so frequently that students always have to carry one in order to know where to go next.

Another plus for the U.S. is the friendliness of the people, especially those in Rossville. As anyone in a foreign land, Petter felt isolated for a while, but this soon changed. As he said, "I don't know why, but people seem to be friendlier, even to people they don't know. Is it because Rossville is so small and people know each other or for something else? I don't know, but that 'Hi' made me feel much better."

The year also offered Petter a chance to become involved in the school and really get to know us. He ran cross country, explored his artistic talents on the traditional "senior outhouse", took trips to art museums, worked on weavings, savored hamburgers, and enjoyed computer class. When asked to contrast American and Finnish politics and how it felt to live next door to Russia, Petter said, "I don't feel it to be dangerous. I guess Finns are used to living near Russia, and it doesn't bother us. Finland is a neutral country. It doesn't take sides in world politics. Finland doesn't always tell its opinion of different matters like the U.S. does."

Petter seems to have enjoyed his year in the U.S. and is especially impressed by how outgoing and friendly we are. His big adventure will hopefully always be a fond memory.

MAGAZINE SALES

An Ongoing Junior Tradition

Upholding a 30-year old tradition, the junior class again sold magazine subscriptions. Of the over 500 magazine selections Readers Digest, Better Homes & Gardens, and McCalls were the most popular.

Though the class of '88 fell shy of its $13,000 goal, $10,741.19 was raised and individuals were rewarded for their efforts. Jon Mellinger, top salesman with over $1050 in sales, received a $50 check, and Debbie Long, second place winner, chose a Walkman radio. Other prizes ranged from M & M's, keychains, and 1988 mugs to telephones, stuffed animals, and cash.

In this manner, the juniors were able to add $4278.93 to their class treasury, to be used to finance the upcoming Jr.-Sr. prom and the 1988 Sr. trip.

Class officers Beth Bushfield, Michelle Cooper, & Lisa Johnson look over promotion items, while Jon Mellinger hangs on to his $50.00 check.

PIZZA MAKERS

Earn A Spectacular $4,440.55

Imagine two tons of toppings: 1750 lbs. of cheese, 310 lbs. of sausage, 130 lbs. of pepperoni, and 2008 lbs. of pizza sauce. Sophomores used them in the annual pizza put together. Sales this year were estimated at 2830 pizzas, and preparations for making the pizzas started Friday afternoon, Oct. 10, when the students gathered to fold boxes. The next morning at 7:00 thirty-eight students and eight mothers gathered in the cafeteria to make the pizza.

The pizza sales gave the sophomores a chance to earn points for their senior trip. In this manner a spectacular $4,440.55 was added to the class treasury to defray cost of the upcoming prom and senior trip.

Group leaders chosen to head the sales campaign were Rashel Rodkey, Lisa Stafford, Kathy Beard, Stacy Dunk, Dawn Flora, Johanna Rodgers, and Rod Miller. The top selling team of Rashel Rodkey, Katrina Conaway, Kevin Fingerle, Christy Frey, Cindy Jones, Neal Schnieb, Kim Wolf, and Mylon Wolf sold 454 pizzas. Mark Flora outsold all sophomores and sold 235 pizzas.

Thanks to Mrs. Conlon, class sponsor, and all those who helped to contribute to a successful year of PIZZA SALES!

CLASS RINGS

Get Fuzzy Finger Award

Both the Class of 1940 and 1987 have one thing in common, the class ring. Although differing in size, shape, and color they symbolize pride in their school. Personalized to show interests and activities of the owner, they are symbols of a student's pride in his school. Young couples exchange rings to show affection; the girl gets the "fuzzy finger" while the boy gets the "choker".

Rings averaged about $150.00, but then who can put a price on memories. When asked why they purchased rings most responded that it was tradition. Thus it follows that even though the emblems, size and shapes differ, the meanings are basically the same: pride in wearing the class ring and memories of their high school years.

FREEDOM SEEKERS

Anticipate Requirements and Decisions

Growing up, new adventures, and decisions — that's what eighth grade is all about. As the class looks forward to transition from junior high to high school it also looks forward to new freedom and responsibilities.

One of the more important events these students have is deciding on their ninth grade schedule. For the first time in their lives they have a say so in their classes they take, and with help from their parents and guidance counselor, Mr. Rule, they look over the class possibilities and compare them with their possible future careers. Decisions made now will effect the future, and long-range planning is essential.

NEWCOMERS

roll into a "lil' higher" experience

Like everyone who ever went through the looked-forward-to-but-dreaded move to jr. high, this year's 62 seventh graders were scared at first, got lost for days, forgot the order of their classes and didn't understand how they could make it from one class, to the restroom, and to the other end of the building all in FIVE minutes. Learning to cope, they started this confusingly different year out with a skating party and learned that friends would be there when they fell. They learned to adapt to the changes in strange and effective ways, becoming human ladders when needed.

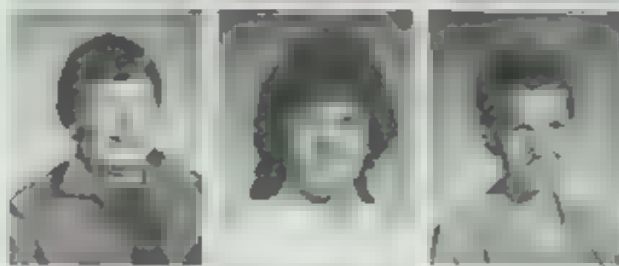

Throughout the entire year a lot was learned, and soon these experienced 7th graders were saying to others, "How could you not make it in five minutes."

"BELIEVE IT" MOTTO SPARKS HORNETS

*"It was a learning experience for everyone involved."
Coach Beam*

The 86-87 volleyball team experienced a new line-up of coaches this year. The enthusiasm, dedication, and "youthful vitality" of the coaches, Brenda Ervin and Patty Beam, started the Hornets out on a very positive note. Through the backing and constant concern of the coaches, the teams combined and sparked a fire that had been extinguished for some time. Both the coaches and the players alike would agree that the entire season was "a learning experience for everyone involved."

The Varsity only smoldered at the start because of several hindering injuries, but as the season progressed the flames started to flare. The Varsity had several consecutive victories against Carroll, Pioneer, Frankfort, and Caston. They then went on to the Sectionals to see if Clinton Prairie could stand the heat. The Hornets were defeated by the Gophers, and the season ended with the naming of two AHS All-Conference picks of Michelle Cooper and Mimi McGill.

The Junior Varsity started in a blaze of glory by winning their first two games against Western Boone and Delphi. From then on the JV Hornets roared and simmered through the good and bad times and ended their season with several wins. The JV Hornets had a successful season and gained a lot of experience.

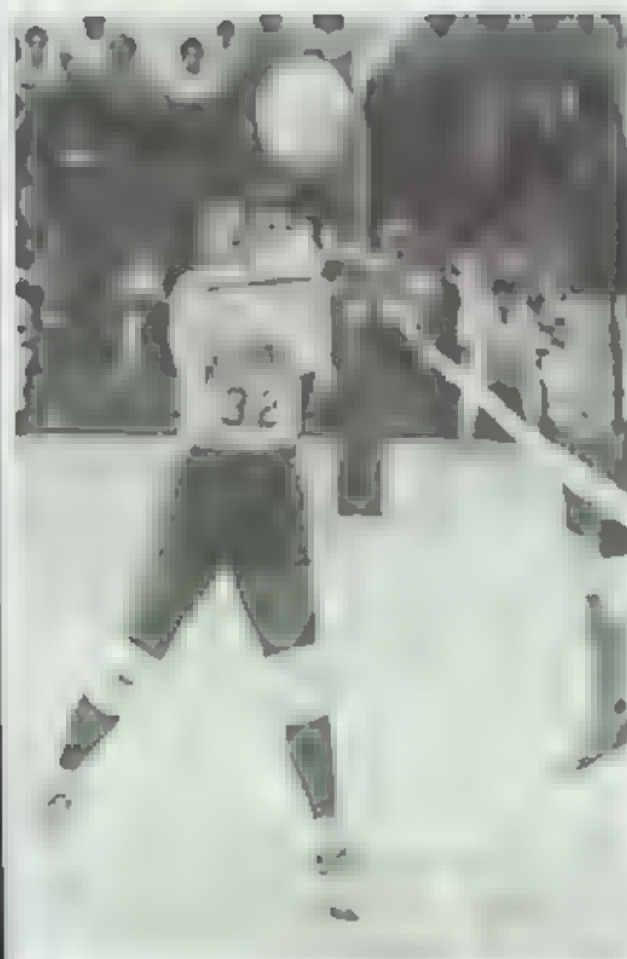

Although the Hornet volleyballers may forget the individual hits, kills, victories and losses, they will always remember that "if you believe in yourself, anything is possible!"

VOLLEYBALL SEASONS DIFFERENT AS BLACK AND WHITE

The junior high volleyball seasons were as different as black and white. The seventh graders only won 4 out of 11 games, while the 8th graders had a smashing season of 8 wins out of 11 games. With this tremendous win/loss conflict between the teams, Coaches Donetta Miller and Missy Metzger had a rough season to cope with. The 7th graders, although their record doesn't show it, "They had a lot of fun and improved very much throughout the season," said Coach Miller.

The 8th grade team, on the other hand, will provide good fire power for the J.V. team next year. High on the coach's list of potentials are Jennifer Jacoby, Amber Anderson, and Deidre Davis. The entire team will provide the bench depth necessary for an excellent season.

Reaching with hope. Jennifer Jacoby and Kristi Walker try to save the play.

Deep in concentration, Shelli Knopp approaches her serve.

ACHIEVEMENTS CONTRAST WITH DISMAL RECORDS

"Youthful vitality provided the impetus of the team" Coach Mosson

Cross country may not be the most spectated sport, but it is, however, an important one. Led by senior, Barth Hendrickson, with a total of 149 season points, the varsity team had a solid year with victories over Carroll, Delphi, and Lebanon. Second highest in season points was Brian Jakes with 89. The team finished fourth in the county and fifth in the Carroll Invitational, with an overall season record of 3 wins and 9 losses. Hopes for next year lie in the two returning lettermen, Jeff Barnard and Brian Jakes

The junior high team was coached by Dave Mosson, who looked upon his first season as a "learning experience." The runners were relatively inexperienced with Brett Longenecker as the only returning runner. Coach Mosson felt the team's best performance was its second meet with Clinton Prairie at Camp Cullom. "The course was difficult and each runner ran hard," Mosson explained. The team finished the season with 3 wins and 5 losses, with steady performances by 8th graders Shannon Mills, Brett Longenecker, and Carl McKinley and 7th grader Tyler Metzger. Coach Mosson bundled the entire year up by saying, "Although youthful vitality provided the impetus of the team, I was for the most part pleased with our efforts and learned a great deal."

POSITIVE OUTLOOK PROVIDES CONFIDENCE

They beat their opponents in every stat that was taken except one, Points!

Coch Aschilman

This strange and exciting season was headed by Rossville Girls' first male coach, Mr. Don Aschilman, along with his sidekick, Coach Brenda Ervin. The girls had an exciting year and a more positive outlook than had been the case in the past. Coach Aschilman brought about many changes. He taught the girls to have confidence in themselves and to not let the "not so important games slip by." Changes occurred not only in the girls but also in the attitudes of the fans and the school. This attitude change is evidenced by the American and Indiana State flags that now accent the scoreboard. A Hornet, compliments of the Art Department and Kevin Fingerle, was also painted on the auxiliary gym wall in order to spark "Hornet Spirit."

The girls had a more successful season this year than last. "They put everything they had into it," said Coach Aschilman. He summed up the season best when he said, "They beat their opponents in every stat that was taken except one, points."

Although their record doesn't show the success of this 86-87 basketball season, the LARS staff would personally like to thank this basketball team and its coaches for "hanging in there" and putting girls basketball at Rossville back on the right track.

CHEERLEADERS CHEER

GIRLS TO VICTORIES

"This has got to be the most talented class of girls to ever come through Rossville Jr. High."

Coach Beam

With a record of 6-0, this year's 8th grade team had the most outstanding record in years. The team, which shot 41% from the floor and 60% from the line, was led by Jennifer Jacoby who averaged 20 points a game. Coach Patty Beam said, "This is by far the best team I have coached for a long time." She added, "This has got to be the most talented class of girls to ever come through Rossville Jr. High. I'm not predicting Sectional Championships, but considering the abilities of these young ladies, there is no logical reason why there shouldn't be."

Coach Beam also coached the 7th graders to a fine season. They ended the year with a record of 4-3, but that doesn't do justice to all the hard work done by these ladies. The one thing the coach was most pleased with was the attitude and hard work put out by them. "With A LOT of ballhandling and shooting worked on individually this summer, the team will have good things to look forward to next season," Coach Beam said. The team was led in scoring by Keely Hufford, but this was a team of cooperation among the players — it was not a one player team.

VARSITY & J.V. BUZZ WITH PRIDE

This ball seems to be up for grabs as Rob Hinesley goes for it

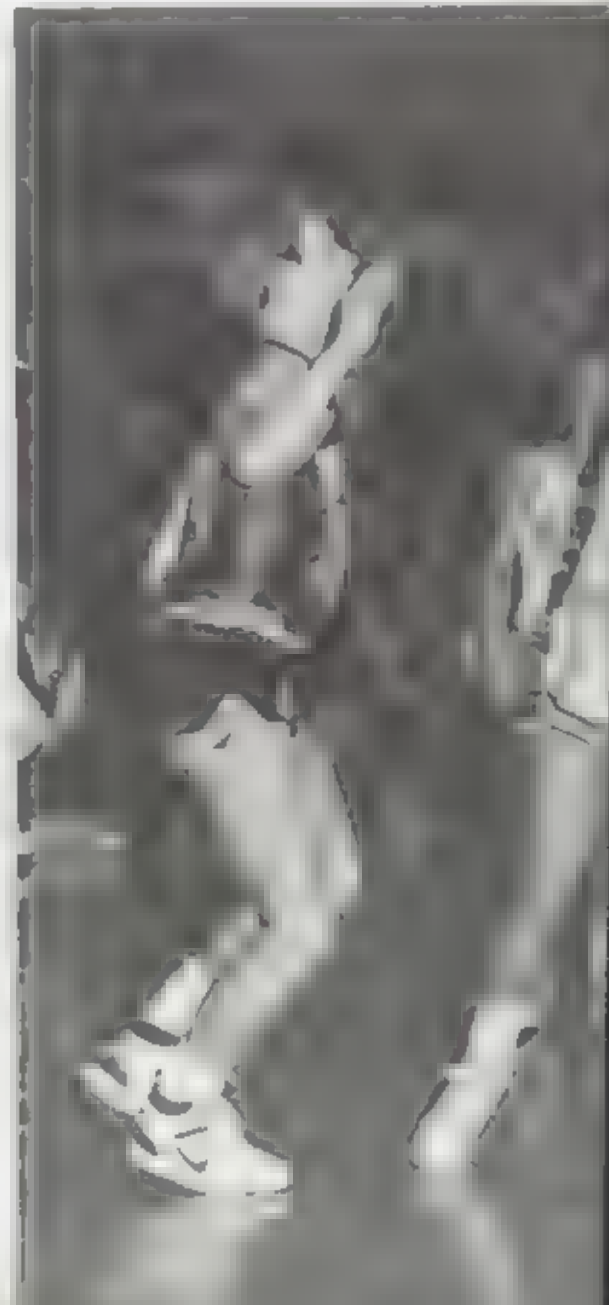

"We reached or exceeded all of our goals, except sectional."

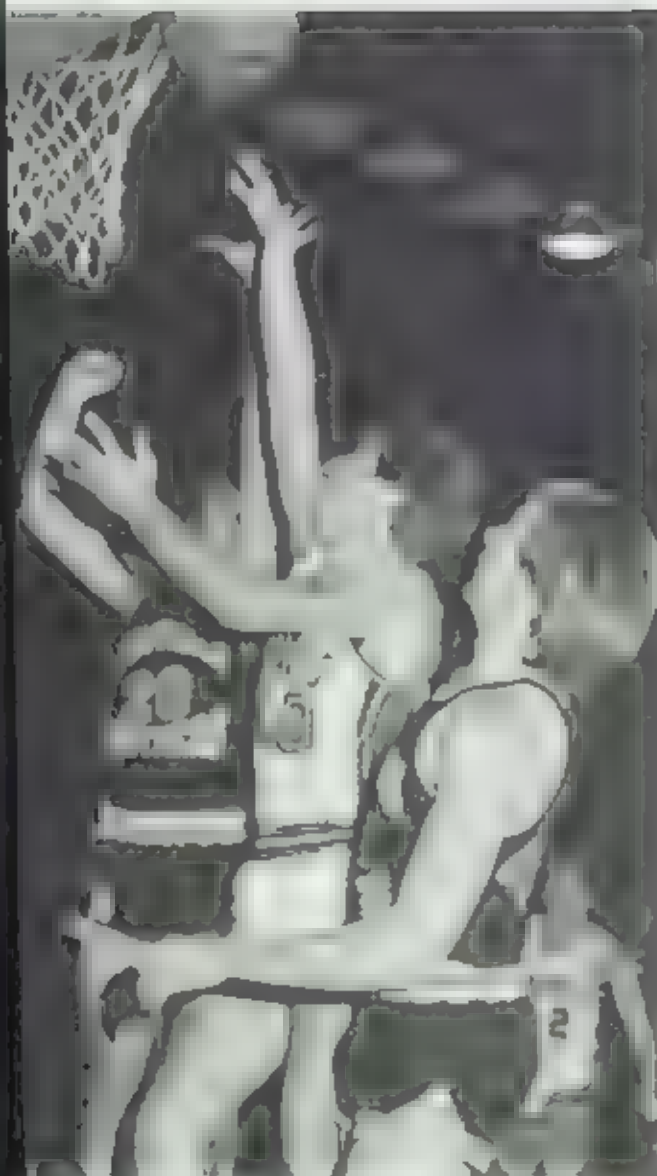

Coach Bob Knopp

The ten player varsity team had its best season in years with a record of 15-5 in regular season play. It was led by the only two seniors on the team, Rob Hinesley and David Mohler. When sectionals rolled around, the team was ready and waiting, since a sectional victory has eluded us since 1981. But this wasn't the year for Rossville to regain its title. Possible victory went down to the final seconds of the final game, but Frankfort took control in overtime. Despite this heart-breaking loss, the team did capture the Mid-West conference, a feat that hadn't been done in years

The J.V. team had an exceptional year and demonstrated that it knew how to play basketball, "Hornet Style." With a record of 19-1, this group of young men typified what the game is all about, with their unyielding hustle and desire. Along with winning the Mid-West Conference, they also captured the county title with an unparalleled level of play. All of this came under first year coach, Dave Mosson who said, "I just love basketball." Who wouldn't love the game especially played the way both of these teams did this year

Facing a little two on one competition, David Mohler (above) goes in for a layup against Western Boone. Below: Now that he has the ball, Number 22 prepares to launch another two pointer.

YEAR OF REBUILDING STRIKES

JR. HIGH BOYS' TEAMS

Because of the number of players that went out for the team, this year's 7th grade team was split into an A and B team. The final record of the A team was 2-6, while the B team ended its season with a 1-2 record. The A team participated in a tourney held at Clinton Central. It lost the first game to Clinton Central and the consolation game to Clinton Prairie. Rossville put up a valiant effort, but they were outplayed in the closing seconds of the final game.

The Class of '91 wanted a winning season this year, and that's exactly what they got, as they finished regular season play with a 5-4 record. This 15 man team put out more work than anyone realizes. "They worked very hard in practice and put out 110% towards the game," said the coach. The teams they lost to were either too big to guard or they simply outplayed them. Next year they hope to do as well, if not better.

Outmaneuvering his opponents, Chris Johns (Top) takes it in for two points. (Above) Thadd Sheets looks for an open man. (Right) Shannon Mills shoots for two.

GIRLS HAVE OUTSTANDING SEASON

"Overall this year, they had a winning style."

Coach Donat

Boasting a 5-1 record and placing 3rd in the county gave the jr. high team something to brag about. Although the girls broke no old or set no new records, they were eager to perform and most competitive

Pacing this year's team was a quartet of 8th graders. Aimee Grubel was undefeated in the 800 and won at the county meet. Missy Katsaros was strong in the mile. Stacy Wilkerson scored in the long jump, and Deidre Davis was awesome in the sprints, especially the 100 meter dash

As these 8th graders move up, they should strengthen the varsity team, that ended the year with a 3-4 record. The year started out as a winner for the varsity, but gradually meet by meet the competition got tougher. The girls gave it their all, and the year's record does not do justice to all their hard work. They put out a 101% for the school and all the spectators there to cheer them on.

TRACK:

"This was a year of rebuilding," commented Coach Hollis. With a record of 0-6, this was obviously not a good year for Jr. High Track. The coach was, however, pleased with those boys who put out the effort to improve their skills. Hollis added, "I hope to have a few more boys out next year. The whole problem is that the other schools mature faster than we do." This year's 8th graders will be a fine addition to next year's varsity team, if they continue to improve their skills.

Individually the Varsity team was outstanding, with John Haan and Eddie Yoder going to sectionals. Despite a 1-7 record, this really was a good year. The team worked hard and improved over the year in three basic areas, times, distance and heights. Coach Aschman looks upon the year as one that showed a lot of improvement for everyone. He also hopes to have a good "nucleus" returning next year.

BASEBALL & GOLF

Under the first year guidance of Thomas Bowyer, the team has done a fantastic job this year. Even though their record was 3-6, that doesn't really tell the true job that they accomplished. Believe it or not this is the best performance of a Rossville baseball team since 1974

Coach Bowyer has done a tremendous job with the players of the team. He has helped improve the hitting, fielding, and general attitude of the players on the team. With a season like this, we can only hope to see more and more like it in the future

The golf team also experienced an interesting season this year. The team consisted of mostly freshman, but there were a few veterans returning for another season. The team's record was an amazing 11-3, with the 3 losses being very close. Dave Mosson, a new coach for the team, led them all the way through the season. The golf team demonstrated much improvement as the year went along. The team should be very pleased with themselves for a fantastic season, and can only hope for another like it next year.

F.F.A. ON THE MOVE

When people think of FFA, they think of farming and other agricultural activities. But there are lots of others that are also done. Before the year even started two groups of people were sent to Trafalgon for Leadership and Initiation Camps. A canoe trip was used to invite new members, and during the year field trips were taken to both the state fair in Indianapolis and the National Farm Machinery Show in Louisville.

Two main money making projects for the year were the Pork Chop Supper, which brought in $800.00 and the Slave Sale which generated another $2300.00. These profits are used to cover the various expenses, especially those involved with judging contests.

This year the FFA added some new judging areas for interested members. The new areas were Meat Judging, Dairy Foods, Tractor Trouble Shooting, and Horse Judging. They also participated in old favorites like Soil Judging, Crop Judging, Forestry, Livestock, and Dairy.

First year teacher, Mr. Dale Griffin, helped the chapter in many ways, but especially in the new judging areas. The Rossville Chapter of the Future Farmers of America truly appreciates his efforts.

Finally money that was made from the Coke machine and a dance, paid for two convos held during the year and helped defray the costs of Honors Day awards.

STEPS BACK IN TIME

Beginning its first year at Rossville, the History Club though small in size completed difficult tasks. The members spent time going through the old LAAS finding basketball scores and pictures of the old club members, in order to complete the showcase dedicated to the returning Homecoming alumni.

The club also spent time working on their own geneologies, finding out a lot on their own family histories. A guest speaker came and discussed this topic with them. The club members also enjoyed taking a step back in time, by watching old black and white movies, and they look forward to being more involved next year.

MAKING BEAUTIFUL MUSIC

Flutists float their stuff!

Concerts and pom pom girls: instrumental music is alive and well at RHS

MARCH. KEEP THOSE LINES STRAIGHT. Such is the instrumental situation at RHS each fall as the band prepares for contests and parades. But being in band involves more than even rows. It involves countless hours of practicing the same piece over and over until it comes easy. It involves performing at basketball games and giving concerts.

Since all work and no play makes for a dull year, the high school band has a cook out and the jr. high band goes to Turkey Run, where Mr. Albro has been tempted to leave some of them. All in all, they do make beautiful music.

Adrift in New York Captures Hearts

It's a play with villains, heroes, and innocent damsels. It's Rossville's first production of a melodrama, and the first time the audience was able to participate in the show. And participate they did. Heroes were CHEERED on, and villains were BOOED.

"Adrift in New York" is a story about a villain (Doug Ticen), a hero (Darin Lowery), and an innocent damsel (Debbie Long). The damsel, Nellie Weston, is the picture of innocence living with her grandfather (Jon Mellinger), sister (Melissa Hodson), and aunt (Jennee' Wolf). This peaceful life is shattered when the cunning Francis Desmond frames Jack Merriwell for a crime that he committed and then cons Nellie into going to New York with him. Things look bad for the Weston family, but like all melodramas "Adrift in New York" has a happy ending. The villain is caught, Jack Merriwell saves Nellie Weston, and they live happily ever after. So ends our first sojourn into the refreshing world of the melodrama.

The waning moments of the final game, see the 2nd place team looking to heaven for help

Take seven 4-man teams, a double elimination tourney, and questions about math, English, history, science, and trivia. Add buzzers, a score board, and a running clock. You have the first annual BRAIN GAMES competition for the junior high students.

Held during activity periods, on six consecutive weeks, and culminating with a junior high convocation, this program's goal was to involve as many students as possible in an exciting educational competition.

SPELLING TEAM FINISHES THIRD

A spelling team involves a competition filled with applause, cheering, changing scores, sweat, churning stomachs and finally a winner

Since this was Rossville's first year in this state-wide competition, it was a totally new endeavor for the eleven members of this team. But, new experience or not, they did an admirable job, finishing third in their division at Regional competition. Their score also placed them seventh in the state, just missing the state competition cut-off.

After the official competition, each team member formed his own team, invited the 6th grade to form teams, and sponsored an in-house competition. A spelling-good time was had by all

"UP THE DOWN STAIRCASE"

ZZZZZZZZZZ Kristy Greives, Tyler Metzger, and Chris Gray ponder why Chris Lowery has fallen asleep

Welcome to Calvin Coolidge High, where the teachers are strict and the students are wacky! Miss Benett (Sheri Miller) thinks she's ready for anything, but her first encounter with the students is enough to make almost anyone quit teaching. The kids finally leave for the day, but the trouble with Joe Ferone (Chris Gray), the most hostile boy she has ever met, is just starting. At the same time one of her students, Alice Blake (Julie Tijunin) is in love with another teacher, Paul Barringer (Jamie Lock).

Up the Down Staircase was voted a huge success by students and teachers alike! Perhaps they see themselves in the play.

YEARBOOK:

"All you have to do is take a lot of pictures and write a little something about what is going on." This unfortunately is the misconception many have about the production of a yearbook. As with all things it takes a dedicated staff, who are willing to put up with the grumblings of a sponsor who always wants them to see one more ad, five more subscriptions, and come up with some creative copy for the club that did nothing or the team that was a flop.

Well, cranky old Mr. Wilson wants to thank all of those students crazy enough to put out a quality yearbook. Without your efforts there would be no LARS

They're what your yearbook is all about. Who is the sports editor Chris or the puppet? Santa visited the LARS room bringing goodies for all

"SWINGS" AGAIN AT RHS

Having lost several experienced singers to graduation and six year director Mrs. Floy Chaffin last year, the Choir and Swing Choir spent the 1986-87 season recruiting and rebuilding. After adding several new faces to both groups they have made a great comeback

The Choir attended the Lebanon High School Choir Competition and walked away with a first Individuals, in solo, duo, and small group competition also claimed their share of awards. The choir also presented concerts in the fall and spring. During the Christmas season a concert was held and the groups carolled the old folks at Milners. Under the direction of Mrs Vicki Gray, the choirs are ON KEY once again

Putting a little song into all of our lives is their job, and they take it quite seriously

THE BACKBONE

OF THE SYSTEM

These three groups of hardworking and energetic people are the glue that holds Rossville together. They serve as chauffeurs, cooks, maintenance men and good friends. Together they strive to keep Rossville one of the cleanest, safest and most pleasant schools in the area — a school we can all be proud of. A big HOORAY for their many hours of dedication

SEEKS REMEDIES

*For every evil under the sun
There is a remedy or there is none
If there be one, seek till you find it;
If there be none, never mind it*

This class has truly found many remedies for the evil of school. In order to avoid doing lessons this class has devised some of the most creative and ingenious methods of getting out of class. For example, these students not only have Christmas vacation, spring break, and the end of the year to look forward to, but they also have afternoons of culture and refinement, computer classes, field trips, competency tests, and recess. This class has sought many remedies for the evil of school but, in the attempt, has only succeeded in becoming better educated.

In Rossville's farming community these youngsters are the farmers of the future. They are interested in farming of course, but other interests range from reading, writing, and arithmetic to involvement in the arts. They enjoy the basics as well as drawing, sketching, coloring, and macrame'. Although the arts are typically enjoyed by kids this age, the art of farming can be seen in the families from which these 5th graders come. Whatever they do, none of these students will be found "under the haystack fast asleep."

Romance is definitely on the mind of this class. Girl friend and boy friend are becoming the "in thing" for this fourth grade class. Along with romance, these fourth graders thought that they most enjoyed their play, which not only allowed them to show off, but also to memorize lines and to act nasty and actually get by with it.

Above: Portraying their characters fully are Katy Alexander, Shawn Hill, and Brooke Wagoner. Right: Amy Greives, Ann Shukheis, and Natalie Burkle discuss the latest gossip of who's going with whom.

And may we, like the clock,

With hands ever ready
To do what is right."

These youngsters approach education with open arms and smiling faces. They enjoy learning math with Mrs. Mercer, and they especially enjoyed their fieldtrip to the Children's Museum to look at the dinosaurs and paintings. But mostly as Jeremy Wolf stated, education is the most fun when "the learning is done together!"

This year's second grade class truly surprised the Lars staff, when the following question was posed. "What is the best thing about second grade?" Among some of the favorites voiced by these students were math, science and reading. These subjects, which are typically not the most popular, seem to be making an academic hit with these youngsters. They did, however, reassure us when they added recess, P. E., and dictation to their list of all time favorites. We wish all of these students the best of times in the future. Hopefully they will retain their interest in the academics of school and not lose their youthful vitality.

1st grade is a different as pair & pear, and yet as much alike as twelve and a dozen.
Moth and spelling are what first grade is all about, but when we asked them what they liked most we heard "it's better than staying home" and "because I like to take things home like the big kids." Like all others before them, they have made new friends, had a new teacher, learned many new, crazy and wonderful ideas and lost but not least learned to become "full-time students."

IT ALL STARTS HERE

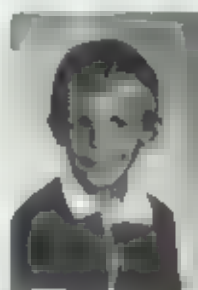

*I used to be little, but not any more.
Tomorrow I'll get up and walk out the door
I'm going to school — It's the first time for me
It's great to be big, but I'm scared as can be.*

*My tummy's in knots. Do you want to know why?
I'm thinking that maybe, just maybe, I'll cry
When Dad leaves the school and I'm there all alone
I'm thinking that maybe I'll want to go home*

*But wait — Mommy said I'll play lots of new games, and meet lots of friends and learn all their names
The first day of school, oh there's so much to do!
There's painting, books, and a big playground, too*

*I used to be little, but not any more
Tomorrow I'll get up and walk out the door
I'm going to school — It's my first day you see It's great to be big! I'm so glad that I'm me!*

Although these youngsters experienced many scary feeling at the beginning of the year, they soon learned to enjoy school and meet new friends. Free play, show and tell, music, sound charts, meeting the letter people, and of course eating snacks were among the variety of activities named by the class of 1999 as the most exciting of the year.

A Word From Our Editors

As our senior year draws to a close we look back at the past four years of our yearbook career. It has all flown by so fast. Those years were filled with new ideas that we hope you have liked and that future yearbook staffs will carry on. We will miss the familiar ol' LARS room, running the halls, digging up information, calling Withrow a million times, dealing with uncooperative people, and everything else that goes along with putting a yearbook together. It wasn't all fun and games for it takes a lot of work, but we enjoyed the experience.

Throughout the past two years, we have been using a computer in order to cut down on handwritten and typing errors; however, we realize that even with a computer, errors are inevitable. Because of the different spellings of each individual name, we try to seek out the correct and often unique spelling of each person's name. But please understand, when someone is obtaining and processing over 800 different spellings of over 800 different names, some individuals get "lost in the shuffle." For these mistakes we are deeply sorry.

We owe a great deal of thanks especially to Mr. Wilson, our advisor, for all the help, guidance, and good times that he has provided throughout the past four years. Without him none of our deadlines would have been met! Additional thanks goes to our dedicated staff members, who performed those odd jobs that were a vital part of the finished product; to Chris Gray for all those "close shots"; to Stacey Dunk and Johanna Rodgers for the many hours spent on the Alumni Directory. The Community also deserves a "pat on the back" for its increased financial support over the past two years.

As the last pages of this book are being printed, many memories are flashing through our minds — of good times and bad and countless hours of work. We wish that you only do us one last favor. Look through this book with understanding and cherish what we have accomplished. Overlook any faults and pray for the future success of this organization, for without your support its future is dim.
